

What is School Choice?

When schools do not meet State targets for improving achievement of all students, parents need to have options including the option to send their child to another school. Title I Part A of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), as amended by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 (NCBL), responds to that need by giving parents of students enrolled in Title I schools that have been identified for school improvement, corrective action, or restructuring the opportunity to transfer their children to a public school that has not been so identified. (DOE)

Which Schools Are Eligible?

The Gray Charter School is not in need of improvement and have never been in need since its inception in 2000 and therefore does not have to offer school choice.
